David Dahlin
Vice President of Philanthropic Services
Pikes Peak Community Foundation

David joined the Foundation in 2021. He brings over 30 years of social sector experience to help clients achieve their philanthropic goals. David has deep expertise in social impact strategies and is an advocate for the sector and the role that it plays in creating a vibrant and healthy society. David has lived in the Pikes Peak Region for many years. He spent much of his career with one of the world's largest child-focused charities, Compassion International. He then served as CEO of the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center. David also led Geneva Global, an international philanthropic consultancy and founded LiveWell GiveWell, a private philanthropic advisory practice.

David earned a bachelor's degree in Biology from St. Olaf College. He studied theology at Luther Northwestern Theological Seminary and earned his master's degree in Psychology from the University of St. Thomas.
